Nov. 24 – Apr. 19, 2018 Saturdays & Sundays 1 PM	Ranger-Led Snowshoe Walks	Crater Lake is one of the snowiest inhabited places in America, receiving an average of 43 feet of snow per year. Ranger-led snowshoe walks are a fun way to explore this winter wonderland while learning how plants, animals, and people survive the long winter. The walks start at 1:00 pm, last two hours, and cover 1-2 miles of moderate-to-strenuous terrain. They don't follow a trail—the hike is an off-trail exploration through the forests and meadows along the rim of Crater Lake. No previous snowshoeing experience is necessary. Snowshoes are provided free of charge, and there is no cost for the tour (apart from the park entrance fee of $10 per car). Participants should be at least 8 years old and come prepared with warm clothing and water-resistant footwear. Space on each tour is limited, and advance reservations are required. The visitor center is open daily from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm except on December 25. Organized groups (such as scout troops, hiking clubs, and church groups) may be able to arrange for a separate tour.	Crater Lake National Park. For more information and to sign up, call the park's visitor center at 541-594-3100.

In partnership with the Oregon Rural Organizing Project, this traveling exhibit explores how Oregonians participated in the decision to incarcerate Japanese Americans and Japanese immigrants during World War II. This is not primarily about the Japanese American experience before, during or after incarceration. Rather, it is the story of how individuals, organizations, businesses and elected officials advocated for the incarceration of Oregonians of Japanese ancestry or stood by while it happened. Those who did stand up before, during and after incarceration, in small and large acts, were especially brave.	Klamath County Library
